CAC Group Has Become a Special Partner of Japan Boccia Association

Efforts on promotion and support of Boccia as a sport for the disabled

CAC Holdings Corporation (Headquarters: Chuo-ku, Tokyo; President and CEO: Akihiko Sako; hereinafter “the Company”) announces that it has concluded a special partner agreement with Japan Boccia Association (Headquarters: Habikino-shi, Osaka; Head Director: Kuniharu Okuda), a general incorporated foundation.

CAC Group will celebrate its 50th anniversary on August 8, 2016. The Company, along with the Group companies CAC Corporation and CAC Croit Corporation, will help promote and support activities related to Boccia, a sport for the disabled, as part of our activities to thank to society for supporting the 50-year development of our Group. We will draw upon the strength of our Group, which provides IT and healthcare services in Japan and other countries, to build an environment in which people can use IT to watch Boccia games.

■What is Boccia?

Boccia is a sport created in Europe for people with severe cerebral palsy and those with serious limb functional disorders with the same level of severity. It has been a Paralympic event ever since the 1984 New York Paralympic Games. Boccia is said to be played in more than 40 countries.

Players compete for points by throwing or moving red or blue (Boccia) balls to get them as close as they can to a target (Boccia) ball (a white ball called the jack).

■Outline of CAC Group’s activities

Boccia is a sport that both healthy people and people with severe disabilities can enjoy. Our Group considers Boccia to be a well-rounded sport full of elaborate strategy and tactics, and aims to make everyone aware of it and provide more opportunities for disabled people to play. To achieve this aim, we plan to do the following:

- Various activities to promote Boccia: Support Japan Boccia Association’s activities, prepare Boccia devices, etc.
- Support activities for main championships in Japan: Company volunteers to help run events, cheer on athletes, and perform other related work.

•Build an environment in which people can use IT to watch Boccia games: Develop a tool that conveys the appeal of Boccia to spectators, etc.
