Basic structure of governance and management execution system

At the CAC Group, we have been strengthening governance aiming for open management with an emphasis on the transparency of management. In 2003, we set up the Management Advisory Board and began to take initiatives for obtaining advice and recommendations about corporate governance from external specialists. In 2005, we made the change to a management system that includes Outside Directors. Currently (as of March 24, 2020), our Board of Directors consists of five Directors, two of whom are Outside Directors (one man and one woman). All of the Outside Directors are independent officers. In 2014, we made the switch to a pure holding company structure to speed up the formulation of business strategies for the entire group and the business administration of group companies. In 2019, we separated management decision-making and supervising functions from executive functions for the purpose of further strengthening corporate governance. The Board of Directors determines management policies and strategies for the entire group and supervises business execution of the Executive Officers, while the Executive Officers focus on business execution in line with the policies determined by the Directors.

Board of Directors

The Board of Directors meets regularly every month and as needed. Important matters are submitted for discussion at the Board of Directors, and the status of operations is reported as needed. We have also set up a Management Meeting as a place for deliberating and making final decisions on important management matters related to consolidated subsidiaries and affiliates.

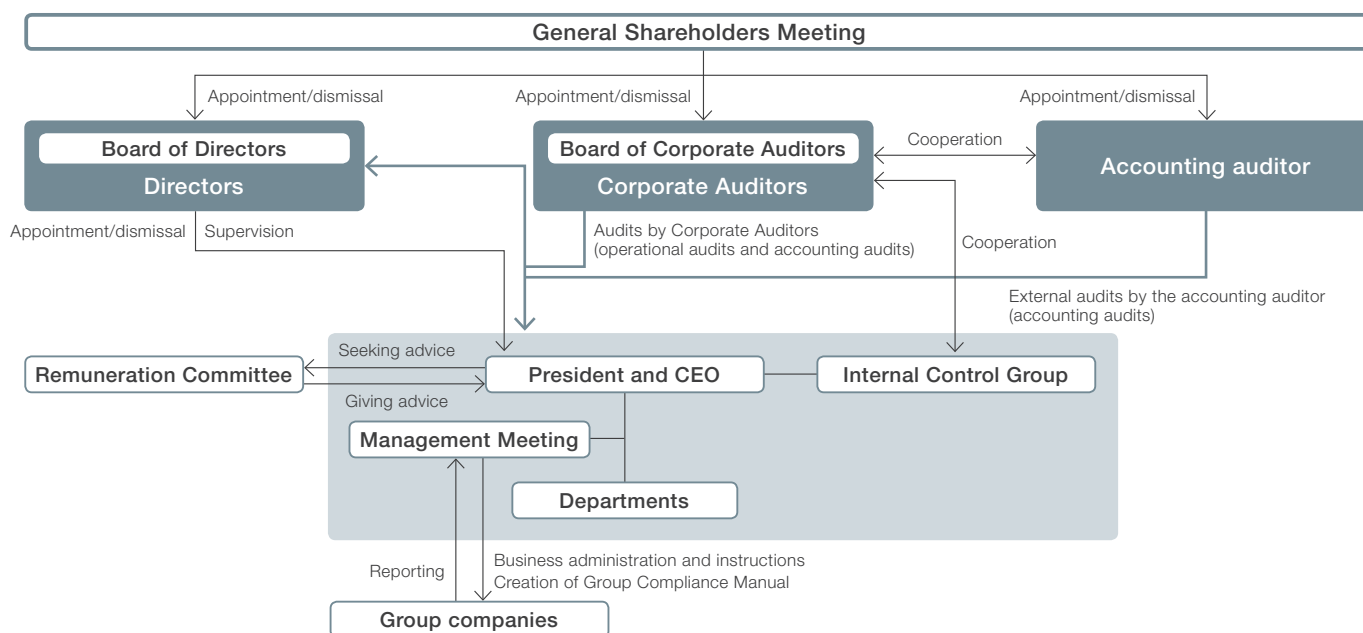

Board of Corporate Auditors

Our Board of Corporate Auditors consists of four Corporate Auditors, two of whom are Outside Corporate Auditors. They meet regularly every month and as needed to hold discussions aimed at ensuring the adequacy and appropriateness of decisions made by the Board of Directors, and the manner in which each Director performs his or her duties. Corporate Auditors actively participate in Management Meetings and other important meetings in addition to the Board of Directors Meetings to properly monitor the performance of operations by Directors.

Reinforcement of the governance system

Remuneration Committee

The amount of remuneration, etc. for Directors is determined by the Board of Directors on the basis of their contribution, etc. to the Company's business performance and strategies within an upper limit resolved at the General Shareholders Meeting, to serve as an incentive for the medium- to long-term improvement of corporate value. The amount of remuneration, etc. for Corporate Auditors is determined through discussion by Corporate Auditors, comprehensively taking into account factors such as whether each corporate auditor is a full-time or part-time Corporate Auditor and the distribution of auditing operations among Corporate Auditors, while making sure the range does not exceed the upper limit approved at the General Shareholders Meeting.

The Remuneration Committee, which is chaired by an Outside Director (Ms. Yukiko Kuroda), was established as an advisory committee for the purpose of deliberating on the fairness, transparency and objectiveness of remuneration for Directors, etc.

Moreover, to promote value sharing with shareholders, the Company introduced a restricted stock program at the 53rd Annual General Shareholders Meeting held on March 27, 2019.

Messages from an outside corporate auditor

I will contribute to enhancing the CAC Group's corporate value from a finance perspective.

Outside
corporate auditor

Yuichi Ishino

Appointed in 2019

We are now heading into an era which requires a “balance sheet head” and “real option management”

I was appointed an outside corporate auditor at CAC Holdings Corporation in March 2019.

It has been a year since I took up office, and I am impressed by the CAC Group's open atmosphere — the freedom to be able to say what you want.

At meetings of the Board of Directors and the Board of Corporate Auditors, I make comments from the standpoint of a finance expert.

I sometimes talk about “PL head” and “BS head,” PL being profit and loss statement and BS being balance sheet, and I said we are now heading into an era in which we need our balance sheet head on.

A “BS head” refers to the ability to consider both input (management resources) and output (operating income) and to attach importance to the question “what input is needed to produce output?”

Generally speaking, people with a “PL head” for “generating sales” and “generating profit by reducing costs” are actually more common but I believe that, at the very least, executives and senior management, as well as general manager class if possible, need to have this “BS head”.

I also remarked on the need for the clear documentation of “withdrawal criteria” for M&A and new businesses.

It is often said that Japanese companies are “bad at withdrawal” whereas the likes of Amazon are very good at it. This is what is known as “real option management” — Trying a new business out with withdrawal criteria in place and if the business doesn't work out, providing support and if the business still doesn't work out even with support, withdrawing whilst there is not much damage.

I believe that, in the hard times ahead, this “real option management” approach will be important.

What we need are “CAC Value” and “CAC Way”

Also, over the past year, I have had the opportunity to ask various people about the CAC Group's “strengths”.

An answer I often hear at such times is that the Group has good customers.

However, this is, at the end of the day, an outcome and the underlying qualities which have laid these foundations are the “strengths”.

To be honest, I could not see the underlying qualities.

Perhaps, Group employees have an idea of what these qualities are but fail to share and spread them.

And so we must ask ourselves what do we need to do to share and spread these qualities, and I believe we need to define “CAC Value” and “CAC Way” setting out that “the CAC Group does work based on this set of values”.

I intend to use meetings of the Board of Directors and other meetings as opportunities to discuss this in the future.

I intend to continue contributing to the CAC Group's growth in the future as an Outside Corporate Auditor who doesn't read the room in a good sense, in other words, who questions the questionable and says what needs to be said.

Compliance/Risk management

At the CAC Group, we believe that the strong awareness of our corporate social and public responsibilities and the actions we take to strengthen social understanding and trust leads to our sustainable development. To increase our sense of morality and our sincerity as a corporate entity, we have established our policies and systems on compliance and risk management and are striving to maintain these policies and systems.

Compliance

At the CAC Group, we define compliance as “increasing our sense of morality and our sincerity as a corporate entity by complying strictly with laws, regulations, rules and social norms.” Based on Our Credo, we have formulated the Basic Guidelines for Business Conduct for Compliance of the overall Group. We have made it our basic compliance policy to establish a system for promoting compliance and to take actions to promote compliance.

In our system for promoting compliance, we have established a Compliance Control Division, which is a division in charge of legal compliance, under the Chief Compliance Officer (CCO), who is appointed by the Board of Directors.

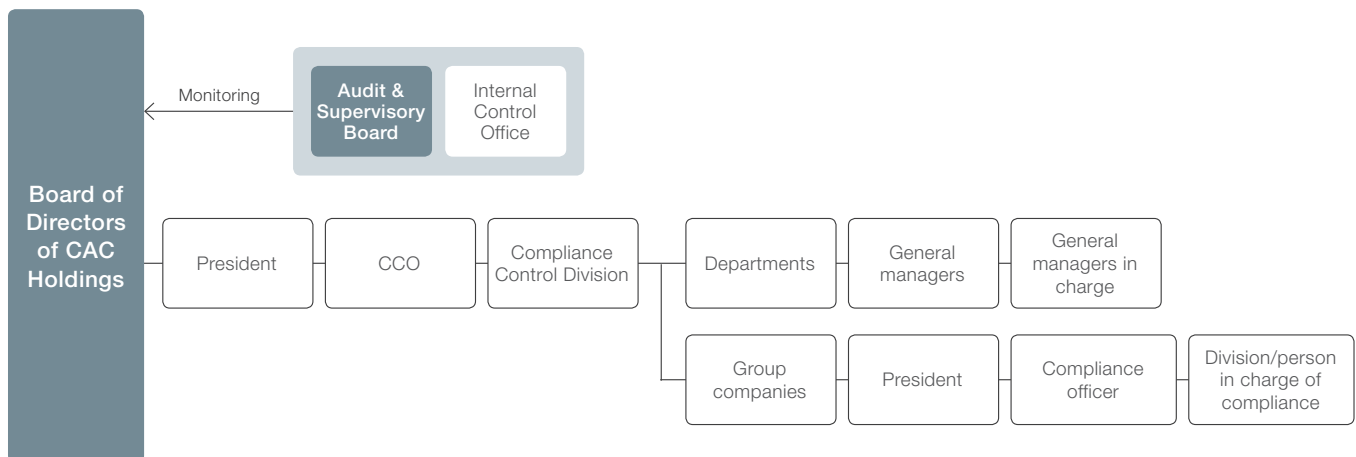

The CCO supervises the Compliance Control Division, which engages in activities related to compliance, including planning, training, supervision and improvements.

We have also introduced the Compliance Helpline System (a whistleblowing system), which permits employees of the CAC Group to respond appropriately to compliance violations or potential compliance violations that they discover. We operate this system both within and outside the Group.

As our basic policy for eliminating anti-social forces, we at the CAC Group will not be involved at all with any forces or groups that threaten social order and safety, will firmly reject demands from such forces or groups, and will not undertake any trade with any companies, groups or individuals related to such forces or groups.

CAC Group’s system for promoting compliance

Risk management

In business activities, a company faces not only risks generated in its external business environment but also internal risks that exist within the company.

The CAC Group needs to handle these risks appropriately to maintain and keep improving its corporate value.

At the CAC Group, we have established the Risk Management Principles as basic rules on risk management. The Risk Management Principles clarify the guiding principle, action guidelines, and risks to manage (such as risks related to disaster, employment, information security, project management and compliance), along with the system to promote the management of these risks.

As the system for promoting the appropriate identification, assessment and handling of risks, we have established the Risk Management Division under the Chief Risk Officer (CRO).

Initiatives for dealing with material risks (as of December 31, 2019)
